

Fourth Year of Walldie's LIBRARY.
BOOKS BY MAIL
PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW VOLUMES FOR 1836.

THREE years have now elapsed since the proprietor of Walldie's Select Circularizing Library laid before the public his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the facility of a rapid transportation by mail. The most ample success has attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading community, it is believed, have been wide-some.

The fourth year will commence on the first Tuesday of January, 1836, at which period it will be necessary to determine the additional amount of copies to be printed, subscriptions being taken only for January of each year. The entire success of the Library is the best guarantee that can be given of its continuance. It was the first to supply books by mail at a mere per centage of their former cost; it has outlived more than thirty previous attempts at imitation, and has now an extensive list of patrons who are of the most solid and valuable class of citizens in every part of the Union, as well as in foreign countries.

The object of Walldie's Library, as we use and purpose, is enjoyment liberal and intellectual. To all who love a mental banquet, without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication furnishes a most valuable desideratum, applying polite literature of a character to enlarge and improve the mind. The time and attention of the editor, himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procurement of works of an elevated standard of intellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most fastidious, and become a rallying point for all its members, promoting social letters, reading and conversation. The variety thus collected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches, Tales, and Select History, personal memoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure &c &c. An amount equal to fifty London ducatine volumes is thus annually furnished in weekly numbers, at cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole range of popular literature, and the work has now become so universally diffused, in every part of the Union, as to form no inconsiderable portion of the literature of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for those who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted disseminates books to all parts of the country in from five to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in this way will supply good reading for a whole circle or family for a cent^d a day, postage mentioned, a duodecimo book is sent every week, mixing in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopaedia. One volume of the Library, containing fifteen to twenty entire works, can be bound at an expense little exceeding that of binding either separately, and constitutes a concentrated collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must always be worth the price that has been paid for it. The most ample testimony has been spontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with mind unoccupied, or thrown into unprofitable and uncengaged society. This immense supply of periodical reading has thus been welcomed every where as a means of improvement, and a substitute for the small talk or idle listlessness so apt to employ a large portion of the time of the majority.

Walldie's Library is published every Tuesday, accompanied by a cover of four quarto pages, containing a review of new books, literary intelligence, small hints, tales, lists of new books, &c. thus combining two advantages of a Library, and the convenience of a magazine and newspaper; the price for 25^c per annum, or clubs of five individuals obtain five copies for 62^c 00, a reduction which pays the postage. Payment always in advance.

Walldie's Port Folio and Companion to the Library, is published every Friday morning, containing reviews of new books, literary intelligence, small hints, tales, lists of new books, &c. thus combining two advantages of a Library, and the convenience of a magazine and newspaper; the price for 25^c per annum, or clubs of five individuals obtain five copies for 62^c 00, a reduction which pays the postage.

Baltimore, Nov. 9, 1837.

NEW MONTHLY DIGESTINE.

On the 1st of July, 1837, will be published, beautifully printed on royal paper, of extra large royal octavo size, and neatly stitched in a colored cover, the first number of a NEW PERIODICAL WORK.

THE GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE, Edited by W. C. GREENE, D. C. H. Philadelphia. To whom all original communications will be addressed.

THE arrangement of a new Periodical in the present state of our country, is a bold one, and requires a large amount of capital, and an extensive field of labor. The Gentleman's Magazine, which is to be printed in the United States, will be the largest and most comprehensive of its kind ever published in America. The editor, Mr. Greene, has been engaged in the preparation of the first number, and has already made considerable progress. The first number will be published in the month of August, 1837, and will be followed by monthly numbers, each containing a variety of subjects, and a large amount of interesting intelligence and literary matter, in addition to a numerous class of original articles, and a large amount of entertainment.

The Gentleman's Magazine will be published at the very moderate rate of two dollars per annum, and will be forwarded by mail.
